CLEARING DEBRIS—Workmen, National Space Technology Laboratories' Firemen and State Highway Patrolmen clear debris from the westbound lanes of I-10 Tuesday afternoon after a tractor-trailer truck rammed through a road striping crew. Two employees of a Metairie road striping company were injured. Hundreds of road reflectors and painting equipment were strewn on the roadway along with gallons of epoxy used to stick the reflectors onto the roadway. Traffic was diverted along the road shoulder for some two hours as the debris was cleared from the highway. (Staff photo by Wayne Ducomb Jr.)

Tractor-trailer rig rips through I-10 work crew

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
Highway workmen watched in horror as an 18-wheel tractor-trailer rig ripped through an I-10 road striping operation Tuesday afternoon near the National Space Technology Laboratories exit.

The 3:15 p.m. accident resulted in injury to two employees, destruction of some $35,000 of equipment including a highway work vehicle and more than $2,000 in highway striping materials. In addition, the tractor-trailer rig was totaled.

Traffic on both westbound traffic lanes of I-10 was diverted onto the inside shoulder lane for some two hours as workmen and firemen cleared debris from the roadway.

Gulfport Memorial Hospital spokesman Ada Reed said late Wednesday afternoon Peggy Martin, 22, of Oak Grove, La., was in good condition with facial lacerations, a fracture of the left elbow and abrasions.

A Howard Memorial Hospital spokesman in Biloxi stated late Wednesday afternoon that a woman flagman on the back of the striping truck was injured when she was thrown into the front right window of the tractor-trailer from the impact. (Staff photo by Wayne Ducomb Jr.)

Highway Patrolman Earl Cox reported at the accident scene, "The truck ran right over a truck putting down lines on I-10."

"The road striping truck had a woman (Martin) on the back flagging people into the left lane. The truck hit the woman and threw her into the tractor-trailer's windshield," Cox explained.

The highway patrolman said Cobb was driving the highway crew truck at the time of the accident.

A ten-man crew of J.B. Harper Construction Co. of Metairie, La., was striping the highway with four trucks.

A workman at the accident scene said three of the trucks were operating flashing arrowboards. Fluorescent road markers and flagmen also warned approaching traffic of the work underway.

"It was the girl's first day out and she is engaged to one of our workmen," the workman stated.

Floyd Giroard, operator of the State Public Service Commission I-10 truck scales, reported, "We checked the tractor-trailer driver's log and he had been running a long time without sleep."

"He'd been driving long enough for four drivers," Giroard added.

Responding to the accident were Highway Patrolmen David Kenny, Bobby Underwood and Cox; Diamondhead's Fire Rescue Unit; the National Space Technology Laboratories' Fire Department; two units of Mobile Medic and N.A. and J.D. Perniciaro Wrecker Services.

TRUCKS TOTALLED—Officials inspect an 18-wheeler which was completely destroyed when it totaled a highway striping vehicle in the background, which was in the right westbound lane of I-10 just west of the National Space Technology Laboratories exit. A woman flagman on the back of the striping truck was injured when she was thrown into the front right window of the tractor-trailer from the impact. (Staff photo by Wayne Ducomb Jr.)

Engineer asks additional fees to complete project

By ELLIS CUEVAS
Engineer Joe Brown III appeared before the Bay St. Louis Council Tuesday requesting an additional $1,000 for an on-site inspector for completion of the 1979 Small Cities Project.

The contract with Brown Engineers, Inc. was for a total of $22,500 on the project involving the upgrading of the water and sewer service in the 500 blocks of deMontluzin, State, St. John and Easterbrook Streets.

Brown said, "We normally charge a set figure per hour on that type of inspection service. The Housing and Urban Development (HUD) called for a set figure which was to come up with $1,000. However, $500 of the amount ($1,000) is for extra service due to the redesigning of the system after the contract was signed with the city."

Changes were made in the location of lines connecting the streets involved were done during the selection of easements for rights-of-way.

After a lengthy discussion, Councilman James Thriffley said he would like a few days to study the request and contract and that the Council was going to recess and meet again in a few days.

Wilmer Seymour, councilman at-large said, "I am ready now to vote on the request." Seymour made a motion which was seconded by Harry Farve, not to increase the $1,000 fees requested.

A roll call on the motion not to increase the fees saw Farve and Seymour voting yes with Council President Pete Benvenutti and Thriffley voting no. The motion failed as it was 2-2 with councilman Fred Wagner absent.

Another motion was made by Thriffley and seconded by Benvenutti to table the request until the recess meeting.

A vote on this action saw Thriffley and Benvenutti in favor and Seymour and Farve opposing. It, like the previous motion, died for a lack of a majority.

Brown mentioned that the contract did call for his firm to make periodic inspections of the project and that the on-site inspection was for the city's protection.

Brown in his report to the Council stated that the project was now 82 ENGINEER-Page 2A

Hancock Schools pushing buffer zone land recovery

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
The Hancock County School District may soon confront the Picayune Municipal Separate School District in a court battle to reclaim several hundred acres of northwest Hancock County land given to the Picayune district in 1957.

The local board voted Saturday for the second time in recent months to direct its attorney to take legal action to regain the land.

Hancock Sixteenth Section Land Manager Terry Randolph told the local County School Board Saturday, "Picayune annexed an area for the children in northwest Hancock County so they could attend nearby Picayune schools."

However, Randolph noted the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's buffer zone restrictions moved all inhabitants out of the area in 1963.

LIFE CYCLES—This ten foot pine pole, carved by Bruce Whitcomb, currently on a trip to Europe, and Mike Burton, left, donated part of a growth from youth to wisdom or old age. Ten days of work went into producing the work of art. When the pine log was originally found on the banks of the Wolf River, the poles were intended to move it. After carving and cutting it could be donated to the community. A member of the Diamondhead Garden Club purchased the pole and donated it to the community. $61.2 million of FmHA construction funds oked

The Farmers Home Administration recently announced that $61.2 million dollars in federal housing funds have been targeted to upgrade substandard housing in the state and provide an economic 'shot-in-the-arm' to the state's housing construction industry.

An FmHA official said funds were made available in response to Governor William Winter's strong appeal last week during a tour of depressed housing conditions in Mississippi.

Alex Mercure, assistant secretary of Agriculture for Rural Development, and Tom Marshall, a native Mississippian and area coordinator of FmHA, joined Governor Winter in announcing an accelerated first quarter allocation of $50 million dollars for the construction of single family dwellings throughout the state.

They also announced the allocation of $11.2 million in discretionary money for single family housing construction.

Some $5 million of this sum is targeted to alleviate the especially severe housing conditions in the 14-county Tennessee-Tombigbee Corridor.

Approximately $1.2 million of the discretionary money will fund the construction of 40 units of multi-family housing in the Hickory, Lake, and Nettleton communities.

Some $11.2 million of the $61.2 million in funding announced today was allocated to the state as a direct result of FmHA survey of housing conditions in the state last week at Governor Winter's request.

Service officer urges completion of VA forms

Many people receiving Veterans Administration benefit payments, also will receive an annual income report Nov. 1.

According to Mike Ladner, Veterans Service officer for Hancock County, persons receiving the card must complete it and return it to the VA before January 1, 1981, or have their benefit payments terminated.

Those receiving the income questionnaire card will be veterans, widows, and children who are receiving nonservice-connected disability or death pension under the new pension law, which went into effect January 1, 1979.

Also receiving the card will be veterans and widows who are receiving pension under the laws which were in effect prior to January 1, 1979, and dependent parents of veterans whose deaths were caused by military service.

Veterans, widows, and children being paid under the new pension law, as well as parents receiving dependency and indemnity compensation, should remember that their countable income may be reduced by any unusual family medical expenses they pay out in 1980.

It is therefore important that the medical expenses be shown in the proper space on the income card.

Upon receipt of the card showing medical expenses for 1980, the VA will recompute entitlement and, if necessary, increase benefit payments retroactively to January 1, 1980.

All VA claimants should report all of their income for 1980, and their anticipated income for 1981.

Based upon the information shown on the card, a determination will be made as to whether VA benefits will continue in 1981.

Buying land involves risks. utilities are built out to it. Contrary to popular belief, Development costs vary, but land is not a fall-safe investment. State Weather Projection

WEATHER OUTLOOK MID-OCTOBER TO MID-NOVEMBER

Mississippi farmers should anticipate unusual amounts of rainfall from now until mid-November, according to the Mississippi Weather Outlook distributed by the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service.

Farmers in the north and central sections of the state can expect more rain than usual during the next 30 days, say agrometeorologists at the Mid-South Farm Weather Service in Stoneville who prepare the forecasts. Less rain than usual, however, is forecast for the southern third of the state.

The weather specialists say the first 10 days may be wet and cool. Rainfall usually ranges from around two inches near the coast to 2.6 inches near the Tennessee border.

Drying rates will drop during the next four weeks. Normal evaporation in the central Delta in mid-October is about .15 inch per day, but drops to around .09 inch per day by mid-November.

Temperatures are expected to average near normal. The mean temperature normally varies from the upper 50s in the north to the upper 60s near the Gulf. Daytime highs are normally in the upper 70s around Oct. 15, but fall to the 60s by mid-November.

Night lows are normally around 50 degrees in mid-October, except on the coast where temperatures hover near 60 degrees. Low temperatures are near 40 degrees, except on the coast. Most of the northern and central counties of the state can expect freezing temperatures at least once in the next 30 days.

Our vote for the most improved piece of residential property would have to go to the lot on Carroll Avenue, Bay St. Louis backing the property of Dr. Pursley.

The removal of the 'jungle' and installation of a little bridge over the natural drain has done wonders.

Whenever you take a drive down Carroll, notice the big improvement.

Lisa Necaise, a member of Hancock North Central's band should be commended on her selection to McDonald's All American band.

As you know, only two persons are selected from each state and we feel it is an honor to have a resident of Rocky Hill Community as one of the representatives from Mississippi.

We know Ms. Necaise's parents and especially her band instructors must be very proud of her.

We like to suggest to all Tiger and Rock-A-Chaw fans that they try and get to the stadium early Friday if they expect to have a seat.

The game of the year should be Bay High's visit to St. Stanislaus and there should be standing room only with all the Tiger and Rock-A-Chaw supporters pulling for their favorite team.

We expect a very close contest and hope that everyone will keep his 'cool' and make it an exciting contest.

Hancock North Central will visit the 'lion's den' when they visit the Warriors of d'Iberville Friday.

The Hawks will have to fly together to top the highly rated Warriors. We hope as many Hawk fans as possible will go support HNC in the big game.

Pass Christian, who has lost two real close games in the past two weeks, will travel to East Central and take home a victory with them.

We hope you all go to a game Friday night, remember kick-off time is 7:30 p.m.

We understand from Geraldine Lane, spokesman for the Concerned Citizens, that things are starting to move on the construction of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Dunklin.

As we have written before, their old home which was beyond repair was stripped and burned down as an exercise by the Bay Fire Department.

Ms. Lang says the forms have been set for a concrete slab which should get underway tomorrow.

The big news Ms. Lang has is that some Seabees are going to come over and help on the framing and that will be a big help.

Some materials have been donated with some cash for others, but there is still a need of more cash. With winter fast approaching, Ms. Lang said they would like to try and get the home completed as soon as possible.

If there is anyway you can help, give Ms. Lang a call at 467-9586. A special account has been set up at the Hancock Bank for the Dunklin project.

Saturday night before you go to bed we would like to suggest that you set your clock back one hour for the time change.

No, we have not forgotten the fall backward and spring forward, probably never will after so many reminders.

It is odd to leave home at 6 a.m. and it still be completely dark. Of course the one hour change will make it dark much earlier in the evenings.

After many months of using a work crew watering can which had to have ice placed in it each day, The City Hall in Bay St. Louis now has a shiny new electric water cooler.

We are sure glad to see the improvements, because one got awfully dry covering those long Council meetings without a little water.

Usually all the ice was gone when the Council meetings were on.

We would like to congratulate whoever was responsible for the purchase of the new water cooler. It is a lot better than the watering can and the old machine it replaced.

SPANISH ACRES STREET REPAIRS—Streets damaged by recent sewer repairs in Spanish Acres Subdivision are being resurfaced much to the delight of the residents of the area. It is our understanding that the project is not finished because of equipment troubles. We can see where the improvements were much needed and think the cooperation between the City of Bay St. Louis and Hancock County should be commended.

Humane Society reports successful fund raising dinner

Editor
The Sea Coast Echo
Bay St. Louis

Dear Sir:

The Bay-Waveland Humane Society, Inc., would like to take this opportunity to thank everyone who helped in any way - workers and customers alike, to make their first attempt at a fund raising dinner a huge success.

Our special gratitude to Mayor John Longo for a delicious meal.

The compliments from our customers were many and sincere.

The adeptness and diligence of Mrs. Shirley Cox, who volunteered to chair the project, is deeply appreciated by all her helpers.

The workers who gave of their time and effort so cheerfully and proficiently earn a heartfelt "thank you."

Last but not least, our beautiful customers who braved bad weather to help us come through with flying colors.

There were three large social events in the area on Oct. 18 when our meatball and spaghetti dinner was held, and for a while there bearing this in mind, coupled with the rain, our faith was tested.

We soon learned not to sell the animal lovers of Hancock County short.

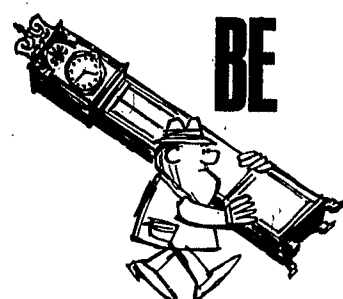

They turned out in record numbers keeping us busy and happy. We are grateful.

It is nice to know that when the Society asks "help us to help you," so many of you listen and do just that.

Sincerely,
BAY-WAVELAND HUMANE

Senator Cochran reports

Nomination 'Sacked'

A major breakdown in leadership has occurred this year with the failure of the Administration to appoint and have confirmed a commissioner to head the Immigration and Naturalization Service.

Although this Commissioner's post became vacant over a year ago, the White House did not nominate anyone for this important job until the middle of the summer.

With refugee and immigration problems growing in seriousness, the White House allowed this administratively-critical position to drift aimlessly unfilled.

Finally, a San Antonio, Texas, attorney and state representative named Matt Garcia was appointed to head the Service.

As a member of the Senate Judiciary Committee, I was assigned the responsibility of helping conduct hearings before our committee on the nomination.

It soon became apparent to me, based on his testimony before our committee, in answers to our questions, and examining his background and experience that Mr. Garcia was simply not qualified to head such a vast agency with such an important mission. This is particularly so given our current problems and turmoil over the Cuban refugees and a growing concern that our immigration laws be tightened and more firmly enforced.

Mr. Garcia conceded to us under questioning that he had very little knowledge of the illegal alien situation in our country, or of the complex immigration policies and laws now in existence.

This might be forgivable if this nominee was an experienced administrator who had developed skill and leadership in his previous employment experiences to enable him to handle an agency as important as the Immigration and Naturalization Service. The Service has about 11,000 employees and an annual budget of $335 million. At the time of his nomination this summer, Mr. Garcia admitted he had no prior administrative experience of any kind, and practiced law in a small law firm with only two associates and three other employees.

He also admitted that 41 complaints had been filed against him as a lawyer in a ten-year period with the Texas Bar Association's grievance committee for his district of the state. He also admitted that he had filed his federal income tax returns late for nine years in a row, 1970-78.

This sort of haphazard and questionable performance in his legal and business affairs was rewarded by the Carter administration by nomination to one of the most sensitive positions in the executive branch - Commissioner of the Immigration and Naturalization Service, the number one post in that agency.

I immediately notified the Chairman of the Judiciary Committee that if the majority leadership or the administration wanted to go forward with the confirmation process, I was officially requesting additional hearings to examine Mr. Garcia's fitness before the full Senate was asked to consent to his nomination. A committee investigator was dispatched to Texas to check further into Garcia's record.

The Senate recessed in early October without further indication from the leadership or White House that they would push for Garcia's confirmation. Frankly, I believe they are now embarrassed and will allow this nomination, which obviously had not been checked out very thoroughly in advance, to die quietly when the lame-duck session begins in mid-November.

I am convinced now that Mr. Garcia's most prominent qualifications centered around his alliance with certain Texas political figures and voting blocs, and that ability to administer programs and laws affecting refugees and other immigrants was subordinated to these political considerations.

During the 96th Congress, the Judiciary Committee has considered a total of 251 nominations. A total of 198 judges were confirmed for the federal bench, 11 were not after hearings by our committee. A total of 41 non-judicial nominees won confirmation by the committee. The only one who has not been confirmed after hearings were held has been Matt Garcia.

One must wonder if after the election it will make any difference to the Carter administration if Garcia is confirmed or not.

Eye malady affects elderly

While macular degeneration resulting in loss of central vision can strike at any age, it's the leading cause of new cases of blindness for persons over 65, and the second major cause of blindness in the U.S.

The best defense against macular degeneration, says the Mississippi Society to Prevent Blindness, is a regular eye examination. Some cases diagnosed early do respond to treatment.

Those affected by this disease may also find optical devices, known as low vision aids helpful.

For more information, send a stamped, self-addressed, business-size envelope to Macular Degeneration Mississippi Society to Prevent Blindness, 115 Broadmoor Drive, Jackson, Ms. 39206.

A PLUS FOR SMALL BUSINESS

Fighting the federal government can be an expensive, time consuming process. But a new law passed by Congress would encourage businesses to stand up for their rights and discourage government actions which are not substantially justified.

The Equal Access to Justice Bill, now awaiting Presidential signature, authorizes courts to award attorneys' fees and other legal expenses to a firm that prevails in court or regulatory proceedings whether brought by or against the government.

In the past, many businesses and individuals have had little recourse but compliance when served with unwarranted fines or compliance orders by a federal agency. This law will allow legal expense reimbursement if the court rules against the government. The Mississippi Economic Council believes that this business legislation is necessary to relieve Mississippians of unwarranted and unjustified federal agency rulings and the Council encourages use of this new "attorney's fees" bill when enacted into law.

Bay Small Cities hearing draws record attendance

By ELLIS CUEVAS

A Community Development Small Cities Program hearing at the Bay St. Louis City Hall drew more than 20 persons Monday.

Ronnie Murray, Gulf Regional Planning Commission representative who was the administrator for both the 1978 and 1979 projects, conducted the hearing.

Murray noted $227,000 was granted to the city in 1978 and $241,000 for the 1979 program which is now in progress.

For the 1980 Small Cities Project, Bay St. Louis was denied a gas system improvement by the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

HUD's reason stated in a letter to Bay Mayor Larry Bennett was:

"... The criteria, which we had to apply to your past performance under previously-approved grants, mandated a finding that such performance did not meet all standards set forth in Section 70.423 (c) of the regulations and further explained in Section V (C) of the Area Office's Small Cities Review Process Statement ..."

The 1978 Small Cities project by Bay St. Louis was slow in getting started, but, according to Murray, the 1979 program now in progress is further ahead of others going on now.

The hearing was for citizen input, according to Murray, and the information will be reviewed by the citizens advisory group and then presented to the Council for approval.

Geraldine Lang, spokesman for the Hancock Concerned Citizens presented a petition with over 100 signatures requesting renovation of dilapidated housing of the poor and elderly as the most important need.

The Spanish Acres Civic and Social Association submitted three items for the committee to study through a letter written by Charles Hirstius, spokesman for the group.

The items included complete renovation of the Valena C. Jones complex, proper drainage of the Spanish Acres Subdivision and the filling of the Webb Street dump.

The city is now eligible to apply for one of three types of grants: single purpose, with a maximum of $500,000; comprehensive one year, $1 million maximum; or comprehensive three years, $3 million.

Murray suggested that it is unlikely Bay St. Louis would be granted three year funding "because they try not to give a city more than it can handle."

Calvin Smith responded from the audience that, in view of the three major projects suggested by the citizens, the city try to "go for comprehensive. We'd have a better chance of being looked at in depth. The government has a tendency to overlook small requests."

He also recommended the combining of projects to be jointly funded by HUD and the Department of Transportation, that would include street work with other community projects.

Also, Smith said, "I've noticed most engineers and contractors (on city jobs) are Caucasian," and that the inclusion of more minority people would increase chances of receiving federal grants. Murray said HUD allows bonus points for the percentages of minority personnel on payrolls and for the investment of funds in minority banks.

Mention was made about the 500 block of Main Street not being a good job by some of those in attendance.

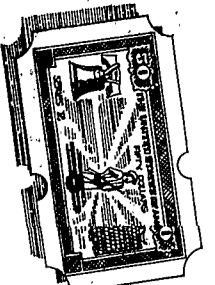

Mrs. Calvin Smith stated, "Public officials have to be watched over and encouraged. Take time out twice a month and come to the Council meetings."

Murray had mentioned that he was not the person to voice a complaint about that particular job, as it was the Mayor and Council.

In reference to the 500 block of Main Street Project, Mayor Larry Bennett received a letter dated Aug. 15, 1980 from W. N. McDonald, state construction engineer, Mississippi Highway Department, saying: "... It was determined that all work had been satisfactorily completed in reasonably close conformity with the plans and specifications, and it was agreed that the contractor should be relieved of maintenance thereafter ..."

Ticket to your future.

Take stock in America. Buy U.S. Savings Bonds.

The Mayor and Council were reluctant to make final payment to the contractor on the project until Federal Funds were threatened by a letter from John R. Tabb, director, Mississippi State Highway Department on May 23, 1980 stating:

"... This is to advise if the City fails to take steps to close this project by June 15, 1980 we will cause withdrawal of federal funds from this project and the Urban System Program for the City of Bay St. Louis ..."

Murray thanked the group, saying it was the largest yet at a public hearing and he appreciated all the input.

CATFISH, 1980 MISSISSIPPI

Mississippi is the leading catfish producing State, accounting for 58 percent of the total acreage in the 10 States surveyed. Mississippi growers accounted for 67 percent of the total sales and 69 percent of foodsize total sales.

Growers in Mississippi were utilizing 32,820 acres of water surface on August 1, 1980 and reported intentions to expand their operations by 11,480 acres during 1981.

The primary source of water supply for raising catfish was from wells, at 95 percent and other sources accounted for the remaining 5 percent.

Sales totaled 28.1 million pounds (live weight) of catfish during the period January 1 - July 31, 1980. Total value of sales was $20.8 million. Foodsize catfish comprised 91 percent of the total sales followed by the fry-fingerling size group with 8 percent and brookfish the remaining 1 percent.

Foodsize catfish sales totaled 27.7 million pounds during January 1 - July 31, 1980, with an average live weight of 1.11 pounds. Total value of sales was $18.9 million, averaging 68 cents per pound. Processors were the main sales outlet receiving 89 percent of the total live weight. Foodsize catfish inventory totaled 42.5 million pounds as of August 1, 1980. Fry-fingerling catfish sales totaled 1.20 million pounds during January 1 - July 31, 1980 with an average live weight of .035 pounds. Total value of sales was $1.74 million, averaging $1.45 per pound.

The primary sales outlets for fry-fingerlings were to other producers of catfish totaling 93 percent of the live weight sold. Inventory of fry-fingerlings, as of August 1, 1980, was 5.1 million pounds or 263 million fish.

SELECTED STATES

Growers in ten selected States sold 43.4 million pounds (live weight) of catfish during the period January 1 - July 31, 1980, according to the Crop Reporting Board. Total value of sales was $33.8 million. Foodsize catfish comprised 93 percent of total sales weight followed by the fry-fingerling size group with 6 percent and brookfish the remaining 1 percent.

Foodsize catfish sales totaled 40.3 million pounds during January 1 - July 31, 1980, with an average live weight of 1.12 pounds. Total value of sales was $28.6 million, averaging 71 cents per pound.

Processors were the main sales outlet, receiving 78 percent of the total live weight. Mississippi, the leading State in foodsize catfish sales, comprised 69 percent of total sales.

Foodsize catfish inventory totaled 63.9 million pounds as of August 1, 1980. Mississippi had the largest inventory with 42.5 million pounds, followed by Alabama with 11.2 million pounds.

Hancock AARP eyes White House meet

The Hancock County AARP Chapter No. 1114 met at Waveland Civic Center Monday with president Esther Oschmann presiding. Julia Loup, membership chairman, reported 155 paid members. Each member was asked to bring one new member at the November meeting when Thanksgiving will be observed. Joe Servat, legislative chairman, reported on a legislative workshop he attended Oct. 2 at Mississippi Southern University (USM) in Long Beach, along with Albert Ragusin of Biloxi, chairman. Servat also reminded those interested in taking a defensive driving course to get in touch with him as soon as possible.

Gordon Stone, tax-aid coordinator, reminded the members that the AARP will again participate in a tax-aid program for Senior Citizens and is asking for volunteers.

Mrs. Oschmann reported she, Mrs. Theresa James and Mrs. Lucille Witter attended a recent Gulf Coast Regional Wastewater Management meeting at Bay St. Louis-Hancock Library so that people could ask questions about the construction of a new $123 million wastewater treatment system to upgrade facilities and meet quality standards required by Federal Law by July, 1983.

There are documents in the form of reports in public libraries for the public to review. Another public hearing will be in Biloxi Community Center, October 29, 1980 at 7:30 p.m. or more information is available by calling Biloxi, 374-1486.

A forum was conducted by Mrs. Oschmann and Mrs. James. The White House Conference will provide an opportunity for the aged to express their opinion on what will happen to older citizens during the next 10 years.

A few of the topics discussed included:

- 1) Legislation to exempt, for all time, any tax on social security.
- 2) Tax on interest from savings accounts of the elderly.
- 3) Hospital costs should be controlled. Medicare should give better coverage on Dr.'s charges and eliminate unnecessary consultations.

Charles Maumus, chairman of nominating committee, read the slate of nominees. The president asked for nominations from the floor. Having none, the slate was approved. The elections will take place at the November meeting.

Those having a birthday in October were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Geraci and Andrew Collins.

Each was given a gift and everyone sang Happy Birthday.

Refreshments of sandwiches and home-made cakes were donated by Mrs. Oschmann and Mrs. Loup.

The tables were decorated for Halloween. Mr. and Mrs. George Surgi served the food and coffee.

(Submitted by Mrs. Esther Oschmann, AARP president.)

Money Talk

By Norine Barnes

As prices of many items continue to climb, you may more often find yourself short of money before payday. To cope with this problem, first find out where your money goes.

Finding out where your money goes takes only a few minutes each day. If you're serious about wanting to cut costs and increase your purchasing power, consider these guidelines.

Carry a small notebook. Everytime you spend money, jot down the amount and the kind of item or service for which you paid. This way you can keep track of all expenditures including small items such as parking meter fees, newspapers, pay telephone calls, and refreshments.

By the end of one week you'll notice that most of your spending falls into certain categories such as food, automobile and transportation, housing and household operation, clothing, entertainment and recreation, reading and education, gifts and pledges, medical care, and personal needs.

At this point it will be helpful to draw up a worksheet listing those major expense categories. Or, you can purchase an "account book" from an office supply or stationery store or request one from the Mississippi State University Cooperative Extension Service.

The account book should contain columnar pages on which you can write the amounts you have spent in each category.

You simply total and transfer to the worksheet or account book the amounts you have noted down daily in your small pocket notebook.

After you record items for a month, where much of your money goes will be obvious.

The record may reveal areas of overspending, such as the purchase of items you might easily get along without.

You may be surprised to see the total amounts that get away from you in little ways.

The spending record also can point the direction for future day-to-day economies that can accumulate to sizable savings over several months or a year.

You can incorporate these economies into a plan that ensures your income will bring you as much satisfaction as possible.

With a plan you will find it easier to adjust spending habits to keep them in line with available funds.

The purpose of making a plan is not only to keep spending within income limits. Its basic purpose is to provide you more satisfaction from what ever amount of income you have.

In a single level home (bottom), a smoke detector (cross) should be located outside the sleeping area. A smoke detector should be provided to protect each sleeping area in multi-level homes (top) or homes where the sleeping areas are separated. In addition, a detector should be placed at the head of the basement stairs.

FIRE SAFETY

The fire confined to the fireplace was no doubt for primitive man the first object of reverie, a symbol of tranquility, and an invitation to repose.

The ancient Greeks believed that the gods jealously guarded the secret of fire, until the Titan Prometheus stole it and gave it to mankind. Indeed, fire that is well used has proven to be a great gift to civilization. Through the centuries, it has been the primary means of heating our homes, cooking our food, and lighting the dark.

But fire that is not controlled poses a tragic threat to the safety and well being of human life and property. Underwriters Laboratories, a not-for-profit organization testing for public safety, reminds homeowners that although dozy reverie may have its place before a fireplace, danger occurs when anyone is not knowledgeable about the alert to fire's potential destructive power. The purpose of National Fire Prevention Week (October 5-11) was to call attention to the major causes of fire that year after year take their toll of lives. Frightening statistics tell the continued need for fire safety education.

Fire is the third largest cause of accidental death. According to the National Fire Protection Association, over 8,000 persons died in fires in the U.S. in 1978 alone. This figure does not include fire-fighter deaths. Even more startling than the statistics is the fact that many of these deaths could have been prevented.

SAFETY EDUCATION

UL urges that you take heed of the major causes of home fires, and that you follow these suggestions on how to prevent them.

Smoking materials carelessly used account for fully one-third of home fires. If you smoke, make it a rule never to smoke in bed. Check furniture for smoldering butts before retiring at night or leaving the house. Use large ashtrays and be sure the material in them is extinguished before depositing in the trash. Keep matches and lighters out of the reach of children. Misuse of electrical appliances is also a major cause of home fires. Check your appliances and their cords periodically to ensure they are in good condition. Never run extension cords under rugs, over hooks, or other sharp objects, or through doorways or windows.

Have your heating equipment checked annually, and be sure that it is kept a safe distance from walls, ceilings, draperies, furniture, and other combustible materials.

Keep rubbish cleaned out of attic, basement, closet, garage, and yard. Keep flammable liquids in metal containers with tight-fitting lids, and store them in a cool place, out of reach of children. Having the proper fire extinguishers in your home can help put out small fires before they spread. The best home unit is a multipurpose, dry-chemical model. Read the operating instructions carefully in advance, and make sure all family members are able to hold and operate the unit. If you do have a fire, get everyone out of the house first. Then, call the fire department. Extinguishers are meant for small fires, and you might be fighting a losing battle by attempting to combat a big one.

Although fire prevention is the best way to protect your family from the terror of fire, a UL listed smoke detector can play an important role in detecting fires in their early stages. When smoke is sensed, a smoke detector will emit a loud audible alarm. Since a significant percentage of fires originate when families are asleep, the alarm can mean the difference between tragedy and early escape.

Fire safety awareness is the key to fire prevention. Parents can play a guiding role in educating their children in fire safety. Every member of the family should know at least two escape routes and a common meeting place in the event of a fire. Family members, and even babysitters, should practice emergency escape routes and should know how to contact the Fire Department.

No matter what the age, everyone should be alert to the risks that fires pose. For more information, call 467-3434.

APPEALING TO SUPERVISORS—Assessor-Tax Collector Edward D. Murtagh Jr. asks the Hancock County Board of Supervisors to authorize his office $500,000 for a county-wide reappraisal program. torney Joseph Gex and that he had taken the matter before Circuit Judge Ruble Griffin last week.

Adams suggested that the Council return the matter to the Board of Adjustments, as it was mentioned that their recommendation did not come from a quorum of members.

The recommendation of the group would then have to be acted on by the Council before it could go to court if necessary.

The property that Cholina is seeking changes in distances for construction to property lines borders one of the Housing Authority's complexes.

In other business, Bay resident Robert Van Peski appeared before the Council complaining about alleged noises being caused by Alcan Cable.

Van Peski stated, "People had to insulate themselves in order to make a phone call. We had to go to the EPA because the city would not help us."

"The day we went around with a petition, Alcan installed a muffler," Van Peski added.

Council President Benvenutti, in checking the petition, asked Van Peski who had signed it. "There were no names on the copy he had just received," Van Peski said. "We have a few, we are a minority."

One time during conversation the resident complained that he had asked Mayor Larry Bennett for help, but he did nothing to which Bennett replied, "I told you I would look into the matter."

A complaint was now made about a noise which seems to be making the dogs crazy and also a PA system which seems to make noise early in the morning, according to Van Peski.

Board Attorney Joseph Gex told the resident that if he had noise complaints, the place for him to complain would be with a Justice Court Judge or City Judge.

City Clerk Kelly McQueen was asked to write a letter to Alcan by the Council about the noise matters.

James Hirstius addressed the Council with commendation from the residents of Spanish Acres Subdivision for the repairs to the streets.

The spokesman said, "The contractor Necaise Construction did a fine job."

On other matters, Hirstius inquired about the status of the Chinche property which is being considered for a possible playground and second exit for the residents of the area.

Gex said he had been in contact with the owners and that they are interested in selling said property and possibly the city or association maybe interested in purchasing it.

Council indicated they would study the matter.

A discussion was also held on the Webb Street dump with the Council saying they now have to wait until the 60 days have expired which the State Department of Health has given the owner to clean it up.

The matter of the expiration of the contract with Seashore Utilities in Hancock Heights was discussed.

The city collects for the water but in turn gives 50 percent of the money to the Jackson-based company, and the city has to maintain the lines.

Council was unanimous in not wanting to renew the contract. It was noted that the company wanted to sell the system to the city which did not interest the officials.

Murtagh reports reappraisal will cost Hancock $500,000

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

Hancock County Assessor-Tax Collector Edward D. Murtagh Jr. told the County Board of Supervisors Monday the local reappraisal program should cost the county some half-million dollars, about $300,000 less than if the job were contracted to a corporation.

Murtagh asked the supervisors to approve the total amount quoted for reappraisal, but Board Attorney Walter Gex advised the assessor to consult with Chancery Clerk E. Michael Necaise to formulate a plan to borrow funds against two mills authorized for reappraisal.

The board previously approved $71,000 for initial phases of the program.

The supervisors did accept recommendations by Murtagh to hire a professional mapper and a reappraisal consultant and authorized a resolution commending Murtagh for his work.

Murtagh presented four professional mapping proposals ranging from $877,700 to $175,000 and recommended the low bid of James Cheatham of Bay Minette, Ala.

The mapper would assist in reappraisal of unplatted areas of the county. "Cheatham's proposal includes a $2,000 per month salary, $25 per day per diem, renting a building and aerial photographs," the assessor explained.

"He's willing to contract for $175,000 and he'd be an employee of the county," he stated.

"Hopefully we will finish the mapping phase in 16 months, but we've given him 18 months," he added.

Gex advised Murtagh to procure an employee contract and a job description from Cheatham.

However, Murtagh informed the board the State Tax Commission would periodically approve Cheatham's work as the job progresses.

The assessor also recommended hiring former State Tax Commission senior aid James Conley as a part-time reappraisal consultant for $200 per day plus $50 expenses.

"He will help train our people, Conley did help us set a local index at one time when he worked for the state," Murtagh said.

District Five Supervisor James Travira questioned Murtagh about Conley's fee and existing reappraisal costs.

Murtagh replied, "I'm staking my life on this program."

District One Supervisor Bert Courge asked, "You're estimating $500,000 on this project, but do you need this money all at one time?"

The assessor replied, "We're using money all of the time."

District Four Supervisor Sam Pernicaro asked, "You'll know when this guy (Conley) comes here and leaves?"

Murtagh replied, "Yes."

Pernicaro stated, "I think we should approve Murtagh's request for $500,000 and get a contract from Conley."

Gex said, "I think the board and Conley should know what we expect in writing."

In reference to the $500,000 request Gex suggested, "Get with Necaise and check with the State Audit Department for a $500,000 loan against the two mills and have the board approve your checks."

Necaise explained, "If we could get the money and invest it and give it to Murtagh as it's needed, we could make more money by investing the funds."

The board also accepted resolutions from the County Port and Harbor Commission granting a 6.5-year extension to a lease, purchase option and deed of trust with the Pearlington Division of Halter Marine, Inc. for a building and site the company occupies at Port Blenville Industrial Park.

In reference to federal revenue sharing funds, the supervisors adopted a resolution urging Congressional release of the government money.

Congress has not yet approved distribution of these funds.

Board President A.A. (Dolph) Keller reported, "The National Association of County Supervisors has notified all counties to pass the resolution urging the government to distribute these funds."

Regarding a recent disaster in Hancock County declared due to severe spring storms, the board agreed to file for disaster funding for damages to public facilities.

The board received a letter from the Mississippi Commission of Budget and Accounting informing the board of the availability of funds.

Gex advised supervisors, "We need to go on record in order for the circuit clerk to fill out forms to report damages."

In reference to a recent State Aid road project, the board authorized a letter to State Aid Engineer William P. Stevenson in Jackson requesting "lifting" $8,910 of damages levied against Shaw Construction Co.

Damages were imposed in connection with a $380,000 contract for construction work on Ansley, Lakeshore and Lower Bay Road which was not completed in allotted time.

The letter cites the delay was due to April tropical storms and floods and a Pearl River flood.

The supervisor's request also notes, "...the company made available to the county their sand and gravel pits, and also loaned us heavy equipment, all at no charge."

In other business at the regular 9 a.m. meeting in the Courthouse in Bay St. Louis, the board:

—Accepted a port and harbor commission resolution presented by Director W. Wilson Wehre accepting a $14,140 bid from Southern Avionics Co. for a non-directional beacon for Stennis International Airport to be delivered by March 15;

there, but Picayune still has that area under its control," the 16th Section manager said.

Randolph noted the children in the northwest Hancock area attended Aaron Academy and the Flat Top School, located south of Picayune, which were both eliminated because of the buffer zone restrictions.

"Picayune has one entire section and several hundred acres of Ileu lands which represent more than 60 square miles of land looking tax revenues which could be generated for Hancock County. All the land is in the buffer zone," Randolph explained.

"There's almost 1,000 acres of Hancock County land under Picayune's jurisdiction plus Ileu lands and they receive the tax revenues," he added.

Randolph also explained the Picayune district receives state millage and federal funds for the annexed area in addition to revenue from the sale of timber and minerals, and land leases.

"We'll have to get Board Attorney Joseph Gex to take action to bring this land under the jurisdiction of the Hancock school system," Randolph recommended.

The local school board recorded in its minutes of May 11, 1957 an April 20, 1957 decision by the State Educational Finance Commission approving the annexation of Hancock school lands into the Picayune district after receiving a petition from a majority of the qualified electors of the territory.

A portion of Section Seven of the EFC order states, "...that the taking of territory hereinafter described from the Hancock County School District and the annexation of same to the Picayune Municipal Separate School District will not seriously interfere with, impair, or diminish the efficiency of either of said districts. On the other hand, will promote the educational welfare of the areas involved and the efficiency of operating said districts."

Randolph contended, "We want to bring this land under the jurisdiction because the action was for the welfare of children in that area, but children no longer live there."

"Picayune's ownership of that land does impair the efficiency of our district," Randolph said citing the terms of the original agreement.

The EFC told school board members Monday in Jackson the local district would either have to reach an agreement with Picayune or take the matter to court.

Board President Woodrow Ladner reported at the Saturday meeting Picayune's district retains Hancock County land because they get a good bit of money off of it.

Randolph noted Hancock County could have recently received $50,000-$80,000 in revenues from a sand pit in one of the Picayune-owned sections.

Board member Louie Ladner stated, "We asked Gex to take action before, why don't we ask 16th Section Land Attorney Robert Drake of Hattiesburg to handle it for us."

Board member Oris Ladner said, "I'd like to make a motion for Gex to get on the ball with it."

Randolph explained, "This matter will go to Chancery Court. Picayune will not just give the land back, but I believe in a court of equity evidence will show the reason for the original agreement no longer exists."

The land sought by local school officials is described by the 1957 EFC order as being located in:

—Township Seven South, Range 16 West, Sections six-eight, 15-25, 32-36, all of the John Shave Claim, Section 30; all Michael O'Conner Claim, Section 31; and all Littlebury West Claim, Section 37.

—Township Seven South, Range 17 West, all of Sections 11-15, 22-25, 35, 36; the Thomas Smith Claim, Section Seven; and the John Shave Claim, Section Eight.

—Township Six South, Range 16 West, all of Sections 22, 23, and 25-36.

—Township Seven South, Range 16 West, Sections One-Eight and Nine-12.

Pearl River's PKT chapter gains regional recognition

Pearl River Junior College's Iota Mu chapter of the Phi Theta Kappa has been named the Most Distinguished Chapter in the Mississippi-Tennessee PTK Region.

The Poplarville based PTK organization received the award in Natchez at a recent annual fall convention of the 30 PTK chapters representing Mississippi and Tennessee.

The Phi Theta Kappa organization is a national scholastic fraternity for junior college students of which only the classes' upper ten percent of each school are eligible to belong.

The National PTK organization also selected Norma Hammill, PRC's PTK co-advisor, as the Most Outstanding Sponsor within the Mississippi-Tennessee Region. Topping the organization's honors, the PRC chapter was selected to serve as president of the region during the next school year.

"This is really a tremendous honor for our PTK chapter and our school," said Dr. Marvin R. White, president of Pearl River College.

"We are all very proud of the hard work and excellent representation these students and advisors have given to Pearl River," White added.

"The Iota Mu Chapter won its Most Distinguished Chapter honor because of the efforts of 1979-80 PTK organization," a spokesman said.

Roger Sanford of Picayune served as president of last year's organization. Debra McWilliams of Poplarville, and Laney Spiers of Picayune were secretary and historian of the award-winning group.

"Sanford did an outstanding job for us last year," "In fact, the officers were really the driving force behind the club's good fortunes," Hammill said.

A group spokesman said, "The regional award was based on the local chapter's scrap book, involvement in campus activities, and service projects for the community. The local PTK group was also cited for the use of the National theme 'A Time for Truth'."

PTK members on the Poplarville campus are advised by Hammill, Ann Morris and Walter Lowe.

This past spring the group attended the National PTK conference in Washington, D.C.

The group is planning to attend the National conference this coming year in Houston.

Attending the fall convention with Hammill and Morris were Ellen Knapp, Picayune; Tony Dunaway, Sumrall; David McDonald, Poplarville; Tammy Lee, Picayune; Wanda Daniels, Bogalusa; Fran Sallinger, Bay St. Louis; Ellis Seal, Poplarville; Robert Shiyon, Pass Christian; Sandra Gullery, New Orleans; Donna Coulter, Picayune; and Trish Marsano, Picayune.

The Pearl River chapter will elect a president, to also serve as president of the Mississippi-Tennessee Region at the next meeting.

Mississippi Power announces rate hike

Mississippi Power Company, suppliers of electric power to the Bay St. Louis and Waveland areas, this week filed a $39.3 million rate increase request with the Mississippi Public Service Commission in Jackson.

The rate hike of 16.7 percent will affect all classes of retail customers, according to Victor J. Daniel Jr., the utility company's board chairman.

A company spokesman said the new rates for residential, commercial, and industrial customers will begin Nov. 20 and are expected to produce about $400 million in increased revenues during the first 12 months they are in effect. Daniel explained: "The requested increase amounts to approximately 16.7 percent. For example, the monthly cost of electric service for a customer using an average of 1,000 kilowatt-hours during the summer will increase about $3.25."

"We do not like to raise the price of our service. However, there is a disease weakening the national economy of which price increases are a symptom and not a cause. As long as inflation flourishes unchecked, neither Mississippi Power Company nor any business which sells goods and services has a choice. We respond to inflation. We do not cause it," Daniel said.

"Inflation continues to eat us up. Earlier this year, Mississippi Power sold first mortgage bonds at an interest cost of 13.75 percent, an increase of some 95 percent over the average cost of all outstanding first mortgage bonds. In 1981, first mortgage bonds that had a cost to the company of 3.5 percent come due, and with continuing high interest rates, it is a virtual certainty that the cost of money to replace those maturing bonds will be several times as great," he emphasized.

Daniel noted Mississippi Power had filed new retail rates with the Mississippi Public Service Commission in Sept. 1979 and "despite the fact inflation was at record high levels and a rate adjustment had not been made in nearly four years - the company received only 70 percent of the requested amount."

"We did not appeal the Public Service Commission's decision because it was in everyone's best interests not to engage in a long and expensive period of litigation. However, we stated in April that if inflation continued at high levels, the revised rates would sustain company earnings for only limited time," he said.

"Mississippi Power Co.'s outside expert witness on financial matters has advised us with today's economic conditions the rate of return on the reasonable value of property used to provide electric service should be no less than 10.6 percent to insure the company remains financially sound enough to meet its service obligations to its customers and the service area," Daniel states.

"Mississippi Power, even with the increase in rates approved earlier this year, now has a rate of return far less than the Public Service Commission at that time found it was entitled," Daniel cited.

"Mississippi Power Company has a legal obligation to provide electric service to its customers now and in the years ahead and in the amounts which they require. The economic and social well being of the entire service area and its citizens depend in great measure on how we meet this responsibility," Daniel said.

"Having to ask for a rate increase is not a pleasant thing to do because we realize our customers have burdens of their own. Regrettably, not until something is done at the national level to address the causes of inflation and relieve the excessive burdens of federal regulations on business and consumers, can we offer our customers any hope of relief," the board chairman stated.

"We are making every effort to operate Mississippi Power efficiently and will continue to do so in the future. We urge our customers to use electricity wisely. Together, we can at least keep electric service bills as reasonable as possible," Daniel said.

State Commissioner blasts power company

Mississippi's Southern District Public Service Commissioner Lynn Havens has termed as beyond belief Mississippi Power Company's $39.3 million rate hike proposal this week.

"This request for increase is almost to the point of disbelief," Havens stated. He further reported that in September of last year Mississippi Power Co. filed for a $23.9 million increase and the commission granted the company 16.8 million - $7 million less than what they requested. "In May 1980, Mississippi Power announced that they were not appealing the Commission's decision and would try to work within the framework of the Commission's order," Havens said.

"The request filed today leaves no doubt in my mind that Mississippi Power Co. is not capable of forecasting the needs of their company to service their trade area. In a period of one year this company has requested in rates what would have increased the consumer's bills by 28 percent, almost exceeding by three times the amount of inflation growth," Havens noted.

"I am stating Mississippi Power Co. in this filing will be subjected to some of the closest scrutiny ever in a rate case because we are now reaching the point to where we are surpassing the ability of customers on fixed incomes to pay for the necessities of life," he cited.

"I realize we are living in an inflationary time and the economy is experiencing recession, but no other company operating in the free enterprise system enjoys the privilege of being able to have a guaranteed profit. All other companies are struggling with recession and inflation and, therefore, I feel it is the responsibility of Mississippi Power Company that they too recognize the conditions of the economy and the customer's ability to pay," Havens concluded.

Holmes dumps PRC, 7-0

Wildcats in homecoming test against Southwest

Holmes Junior College handed the Pearl River Wildcats a 7-0 setback in a driving rain in Poplarville Saturday night in an interdivisional junior college contest.

The loss dropped the Wildcats to 3-4 for the year with only three contests remaining in 1980.

The victory pushed the Holmes record to 3-4 for the year.

The lone score of the night came with 6:58 remaining in the third period as Holmes' quarterback Thomas Trussell went in from the four yard line. Steve Aydlott added the point after.

The real story of the Bulldog score, however, was the fact that linebacker Ricky Martin blocked a Brent Swindoll punt on the nine yard line which gave the Holmes' team an excellent scoring opportunity.

Mistakes again played a big role in the outcome of the contest. On two separate occasions the 'Cats were down deep into Bulldog territory but could not push the ball over.

Late in the first quarter the Wildcats had a first and goal from the five yard line but on the first down tailback Randall Collette fumbled.

Moments later the 'Cats were again knocking on the door at the four yard line, but a fumble and penalty pushed the ball back.

On fourth down Bobby Stockstill tried a 25 yard field goal which was wide to the left.

Pearl River won the ballgame on the statistic sheet as the 'Cats racked up 15 first downs to the Bulldogs' nine.

The PRC team amassed 268 total yards to the Holmes 173.

Pearl River also committed the most errors, fumbling four times and being intercepted once. The Bulldogs gave the ball up four times.

Left on the Wildcat slate in 1980 are Southwest, the team the Wildcats play for Homecoming this week, then Co-Lin and Northeast, the nation's number one ranked team.

To have a winning season the Wildcats must win all three, and to break even means two of the last three contests must turn out in favor of the PRC group.

After last week's 7-0 loss to the Holmes Bulldogs, head coach J. C. Arban agrees his Wildcats have their work cut out for them. "It appears we are in somewhat of a rut," Arban said, "we're not believing in ourselves anymore."

"I still can't believe we lost that game (the Holmes encounter)," Arban said. "We won every stat except the one which counted, and that was the final score."

"If we don't quit beating ourselves, we're not going to win another ballgame," Arban said. "It's definitely time for our leaders to stand up and take control."

Arban said he thought overall his team played a pretty good ballgame, especially under the wet conditions.

"We did a good job most of the time," Arban said, "but we fumbled just too much."

A. J. Kilpatrick, the head coach of the Holmes Bulldogs, said the Wildcats hit his team harder than any team had all year. "That's fine and dandy," Arban said, "but, we still lost."

Again Arban came back to the old problem of the Wildcats, and that's not scoring when the opportunity prevails.

"We should have put the game out of reach in the first half. I'm still not believing we lost."

The Bears have beaten Co-Lin 17-10, Coahoma 21-0, and a powerful Gulf Coast 7-3 - their only loss of the year. Southwest losses have been to East Mississippi 18-17, Hinds 21-14, Itawamba 24-7, and Jones 38-7.

"We'll have our hands full," Arban said, "and I guess we'll all have to wait until Saturday night to see if we're ready to play football."

According to Arban, his team can expect the Bears to pass behind the arm of Mark Rousell, the 'Cajon Canon'. The Bear defense is also very large and strong.

"We have all talked about our problems and, we as coaches, are teaching harder than ever," Arban said, "I guess all I can say is, we'll know something Saturday night."

Captains for this week's game will include all the PRC sophomores. Kickoff has been moved up to 6 p.m., in order for Homecoming activities to take place at 7:30 p.m.

Rebel tennis squad faces Millsaps

After polishing off Mississippi State and Mississippi University for Women already this season, the Ole Miss Lady Rebel tennis squad will seek to extend its 26-match winning streak against Mississippi teams when Millsaps visits Oxford Friday.

Memphis State invades campus on Saturday and the Lady Rebs will go after their ninth straight win in the series against the Lady Tigers.

For the season Ole Miss is 2-1 with a loss to Florida State. Two freshmen lead the squad with victories going undefeated in three matches. Kathleen Murray, of Fort Worth, Texas, and Lelia Wallendar, from Tyler, Texas, are both 3-0 playing number one through three. In doubles the third-seeded team of Denise Barbiero, of Scarborough, Canada, and Ramona Kent from Osyka, Miss., also sport a perfect record.

The lineup for the Lady Rebels should have Jackson's Catherine Yelverton at the top spot followed by Murray and Wallendar with Renee Noblin, from El Paso, Texas at number four. Barbiero and Kent round out the top six.

Ole Miss and Millsaps meet at 2:30 Friday afternoon while the Lady Rebels and Lady Tigers will tangle at 2:30 on Saturday afternoon.

MANY HAWKS — Hancock Hawk quarterback Bobby Devanagh prepares to hand off to half back Faron Hoda last Friday. The Hawks defeated Pearl River Central 14-7 in a close contest. Tomorrow night the Hawks travel to d'Iberville to take on the Warriors. Hoda may be sidelined for Friday's game as well as Michael Schubert because of ankle injuries which showed up Saturday, according to Hawk Coach Irvin Favre. (Staff photo-Ellis Cuevas)

Hawk coach hopes for good game against league leading Warriors

By ELLIS CUEVAS
The Hancock North Central Hawks will get their test of the season when they travel to d'Iberville Friday for an encounter with the Warriors.

Head Coach Irvin Favre stated, "We will be trying to do something Bay High, St. Stanislaus and Pass Christian were unable to do this year and that is defeat d'Iberville."

"Vanceleave and d'Iberville share the lead of the Pascagoula conference. We have been against the leaders before, and if we can play a game of no mistakes and put the ball in the end zone, we can give them a good game," Favre added.

Favre continued, "As you know, James Evans is probably the most sought after back in the state and he is an outstanding player. His brother plays linebacker for the Denver Broncos, so you know what he is in his background."

Physically, Favre feels his team will suffer with the probability of two first strings out due to ankle injuries.

"Halfback Faron Hoda and Michael Schubert, defensive tackle, came up with ankle injuries showing up Saturday after the Pearl River Central game."

"Everyone else is o.k., and we hope that Hoda and Schubert will be able to play because we will have to do a lot of shuffling around if they are unable to," Favre commented.

Favre remembered, "Both Stanislaus and Bay High gave the Warriors good games and I hope we can do the same and come out on top. It will be d'Iberville's homecoming and that will probably give them a little more edge."

d'Iberville is "6-1" conference and 4-3 for the season with the Hawks, an independent 4-3 for the season."

Alcorn plans week of homecoming events

Alcorn State University's annual Homecoming festivities have been scheduled for October 28 - November 1.

Activities for students begin one week prior to three of the major events, the Homecoming Parade, Coronation Ball and the annual football game.

This year, 32 bands have been extended invitations to participate in the parade which begins at 10:30 a.m. Saturday, Nov. 1.

An "Alcorn Shirt Day," and pep rally will kick off the 1980 festivities.

The crowning of Miss Alcorn, Cynthia Dalcourt, a senior computer science major from Woodville, will highlight the Coronation Ball on Wednesday evening.

Thursday and Friday activities will include a hay ride, fashion and talent show, bonfire-wreath roast and a Halloween carnival. On Friday, October 31, an alumni sponsored Masquerade Party will be held at the Ramada Inn - Vicksburg, starting at 10 p.m.

A pre-game alumni gathering will be held Saturday from 8 - 10 a.m. in the Old Administration Building.

The annual Homecoming football game between Alcorn State and Bishop College will start at 1 p.m. The final activity will be a concert Saturday evening following the football game, which features the popular entertainment group called "Enchantment."

Omega Jackson, a senior food and nutrition major from Tallulah, La., is chairperson of this year's Homecoming committee.

FISH PARASITES HARMLESS
Fishermen continue to be puzzled by the appearance of parasitic grubs on the skin of some of the fish they catch.

Fortunately, considerable research has been done into the problem of fish parasites in North America, and Mercury Outboards' fishing department has compiled some information which should answer the questions most anglers have about fish grubs.

The most common fish parasite is the black grub. Because they encyst under the skin of the host, the round, black lumps are easily seen.

There's not much danger of eating one unknowingly, although if cooked they can do no harm.

They can be removed by skinning the fish, however it's probably best to return an infected fish to the water.

Black grubs are a larval form of trematodes - small flukes which require three hosts before becoming adults.

Snails are the usual primary host for trematodes. Fish and other aquatic creatures serve as the second host, and the third is either a fish, bird or mammal, depending upon which eats the infected second host.

Although they are unsightly when encysted on a fish, most cause no harm and eventually leave the host.

The battle against inflation must begin in Washington

The biggest problem in America today is the one that affects us all. Inflation. It is not a simple problem. It is complex and stubborn, else it would have been conquered long ago. Inflation has so many contributing causes that even professional economists are unable to agree on a comprehensive government policy for attacking it. But there can be little doubt about where the attack should begin.

The major culprit is the federal government. Government-induced inflation runs rampant across the land, a predictable product of the ideological fantasy that government can be the guarantor of everything to all.

In 1972, I went to Washington with the idea that less government regulation, less government spending, less government period would make us a more prosperous and vigorous nation. After eight years of experience in Congress, I hold that view with even greater conviction today. The encouraging news is that voters all across America are now electing representatives who share that view as well.

The battle against inflation must begin in Washington, and its first objectives must be to cut government spending, to reduce government regulation, to stop the needless expansion of government itself, and provide incentives that will encourage Americans to take pride in helping themselves.

Fight enthusiasts can pay $1000 for Superdome seat

Tickets are now on sale for the WBC Welterweight Championship fight between titleholder Roberto Duran of Panama and challenger Sugar Ray Leonard, set for the Louisiana Superdome in New Orleans Tuesday, Nov. 25.

Ticket prices are terrace, $40; terrace boxes, $50; loge, $75; plaza ends, $100; plaza sides, $150; arena floor, $200; bronze circle, $300; silver circle, $500; and gold circle, $1,000.

Some 80,000 seats will be available for the fight.

Although the fight will be shown on closed circuit television throughout North America, the area within a 200-mile radius of New Orleans will be blacked out. No home TV or radio coverage will be available.

The scale of ticket prices will put boxing's live gate record in jeopardy when Duran and Leonard square off.

The $6-million-plus figure achieved at the recent Muhammad Ali-Larry Holmes fight in Las Vegas could be topped in the Superdome by as much as $2 million.

With the price range of $40 up to $1,000, the live gate could exceed $8 million.

More than $1 million in tickets have already been sold at the Superdome since the fight was announced on October 2.

Tickets went on sale October 15 across the country at Ticketmaster and Ticketron outlets, as well as the Superdome, and Neal Gunn, president of Facility Enterprises, Inc., co-promoter of the fight, reports sales are brisk.

Duran, the Panamanian champion, will be making the first defense of the title he lifted from Leonard in their first meeting at the Olympic Stadium in Montreal on June 20.

In that fight Duran and Leonard stood toe-to-toe and traded punches virtually the entire contest. At the final bell, Duran was awarded a unanimous decision, inflicting the first career defeat on the former Olympic champion from Palmer Park, Maryland.

Duran, 29, sports a career ring mark of 70-1, including 55 knockouts. He was the world lightweight champion for six years (1972-78) before giving up the title to move to the welterweight division.

His only career defeat, a non-title, 10-round loss to Esteban de Jesus, was subsequently avenged by two knockouts. Many experts consider Duran to be the finest fighter, pound-for-pound, in boxing today.

The 24-year-old Leonard made his appearance on the boxing scene in 1976, when he captured the Gold Medal at the Montreal Olympics.

He turned professional in 1977, winning 25 straight fights to earn a shot at the WBC Welterweight Championship held by Wilfred Benitez.

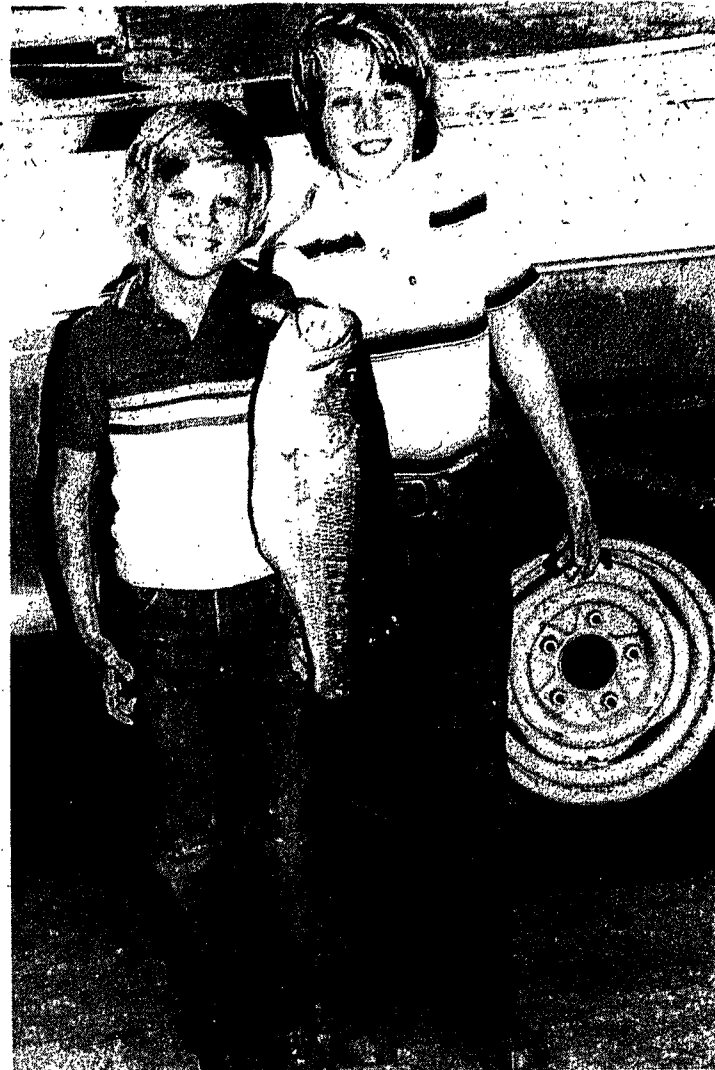

Leonard stopped Benitez in the 15th round on November 30, 1979, to take the crown, and successfully defended against Davey Green in March of this year before dropping the close decision to Duran.

Tickets for the Superfight may be purchased at the Superdome, at all Ticketmaster and Ticketron outlets, by calling (504) 528-9337, or by writing to Ticket Office, P.O. Box 50519, New Orleans, LA 70150.

To order tickets by mail, send a certified check, cashier's check or money order payable to the Louisiana Superdome, adding $2 to each order to cover handling charges.

A stamped, self-addressed envelope should also be enclosed. All orders will be filled on a first-come, first-served basis.

Tickets priced at $1,000, $500 and $300 may only be ordered by mail, or by calling (504) 528-9337.

Lady Rebels break ice in volleyball

After winning their first tournament title off campus in two years, the Ole Miss Lady Rebel volleyball squad hopes to keep the momentum with a visit to New Orleans, La. for the Tulane Round Robin this weekend.

The Lady Rebels swept past Auburn, Mississippi

University for Women, Jefferson Community College, Tennessee-Martin and host team Memphis State last weekend to capture their first championship in the Memphis State Invitational.

The title served as revenge for the Lady Rebels who lost in the finals here last year to Memphis State and opened their season this year by falling to the Lady Tigers in Oxford.

Thursday night Ole Miss faces Southern Mississippi in Hattiesburg before hitting the road for New Orleans. The Lady Rebels will square off against Tulane, LSU and Oral Roberts Friday and Saturday.

Ole Miss stands at 18-6 on the season with a perfect 9-0 Mississippi record.

Delta State marks homecoming Saturday

Recognition of an outstanding alumnus and reunions of anniversary classes will highlight 1980 Homecoming activities at Delta State University Saturday.

Hugh Ellis Walker, director of alumni affairs, said the day-long festivities would include events for alumni, current students, parents of students, football fans and the general public.

"We're excited about the variety of festivities to be offered, and early indications point to an outstanding turnout by alumni," Walker said.

"Koffee Klatches" at 9 a.m. in The Union for the reunion classes of 1930, 1940, 1950, 1960 and 1970 will open the activity schedule, Walker said.

Meetings of the music and athletic alumni associations will follow at 10 a.m., as will open houses for dormitories, sororities and fraternities.

Dedication ceremonies of the Ewing Garden will be held at 1:15 p.m. between the James M. Ewing and Caylor Halls.

Delta State President Kent Wyatt and Mrs. Wyatt will host an open house from 9:30-11 a.m. at the president's home and pep parade and pep rally are planned at 10:30 and 11 a.m., respectively.

A major function of the day, the annual Alumni Association Business Luncheon, will be held at 11:30 a.m. in The Union and will include recognition of reunion class members and the naming of the outstanding alumnus.

Football will take the spotlight at 1:45 p.m. with a pre-game show at Delta Field, followed by the Gulf South Conference game between the Delta State Statesmen and Livingston University of Alabama.

Halftime activities will include marching band performances, crowning of the Homecoming Queen and induction ceremonies for new members of the DSU Music Hall of Fame.

Open houses at the Chadwick-Dickson Athletic Building, dormitories and fraternity and sorority chapter rooms will be held from 4:30-6:30 p.m. with fraternity dances, private parties and additional class reunions to round out the nighttime activities.

SPORTS TALK

Mike Schmidt

The pitcher was flitting with danger. He knew he was in trouble as soon as the ball left his hand on its course straight for the heart of the plate. He could almost make out the smile on the face of the muscular man with the stick in his hands, who was about to attack the ball as though he had not eaten in days. There was the crack of the bat and the sudden cry of the crowd. All the pitcher could do, his head never turning, was nervously finger the resin bag as the small white sphere disappeared over the outfield fence.

Baseball has been played for 131 years and still nothing on any level of the game has been found to rival the excitement and the drama of the home run — Babe Ruth pointing toward the right field bleachers at Wrigley Field only seconds before depositing a baseball there; Bobby Thomson hitting the shot heard around the world to give the Giants the pennant over the hated Dodgers; Carlton Fisk motionlessly watching as his home run stayed just inside the foul pole to keep the Red Sox World Series hopes alive for another day; Henry Aaron stalking, then eclipsing the career mark that many said would never be touched.

No single season statistic is as closely followed and as eagerly pursued as the home run mark. Baseball writers begin to chart the home run pace of today's sluggers while the cherry blossoms outside the White House are still in full bloom. In no other sport are such long distance comparisons made: to 1927 when Ruth hit 60 home runs and to 1961 when Roger Maris, abetted by an asterisk, slugged 61.

There are a number of players in the baseball today who have the ability to establish a new home run mark for future strongboys to take aim at. Their chances could very well be determined by their ability to stay healthy and by the makeup of their team.

7UP Super Star Mike Schmidt of the Philadelphia Phillies has a reputation for being one of baseball's most feared hitters. Since playing regularly for the Phillies in 1973, Mike has averaged 33 home runs a year. He's led the league in homers three times and, at only 30 years old, is likely to terrorize National League pitching for some years to come.

"You don't have to be built like Babe Ruth to be a homerun hitter," said Schmidt, who is 6-foot-2-inches and a solid 195 pounds. "As Henry Aaron proved, strong wrists, a good eye and patience are the main ingredients. You can't swing for the fences everytime you step up to the plate. Making contact is the important thing. If you have the upper body strength, the home runs will come."

Mike leads a rather imposing pack of long ball hitters in the National League. On his own club, Mike is often matched homer for homer by Greg Luzinski. Having two genuine home run threats like Schmidt and Luzinski in one lineup helps both hitters. Pitchers can't pitch around one with the other on deck.

Circa 1938: Mississippi tourists warned of dangerous animals, insects and plants

By Joe Pilet

Four decades ago, during the month of May, 1938 to be exact, a Guide to the Magnolia State was compiled and written as a project of the Works Progress Administration.

Of interest is a paragraph under general information and given tourists the following precautions:

"Avoid unmarked springs, Mosquitoes in Coastal Meadow and in Delta regions, except in municipalities; campers should take netting.

"Poisonous Plants, Reptiles, Dangerous Animals, Insects: Rattlesnakes, moccasins, coral snakes. Poisonous plants including the ivies and other vines.

"Berries should not be eaten unless true identity is known, Mosquitoes, black widow spiders generally distributed.

"Few bears, wildcats, bobcats in dense canebrakes in south and west Mississippi.

"Alligators in few Delta lakes and in swamplands of south Mississippi."

Mississippi was defined as "a place where nearly everybody votes the Democratic ticket, half the population is Negro, and a place where everybody grows cotton on land which only a few own."

Hancock County, of course, falls under the category of Coastal Meadows and the produce map of that date showed tung orchards, satsumas, cattle, truck farms, and the like.

Tour 8 boasted a two lane wide highway three-fourths paved travelling U.S. 11 which ran diagonally across the southeastern corner of the State through the red clay hills of east central Mississippi, through cut-over lands of the Piney Woods; and at the southern end crossed a small part of the Coastal Meadows.

Gulfport was said to have an elevation of 19 feet and a population of 12,547.

In those days Biloxi had local buses hourly as far west as Pass Christian, fare 25 cents and half-hour schedules throughout Biloxi with fare 5 cents.

Taxi fare within the city limits was 10 cents.

Biloxi's population was 14,850.

The guide book informed tourists thusly: "South of Howard Avenue and connected with it by narrow lane-like streets, where giant live oaks arch their branches over the roadways, is the beach front.

"Developed primarily as a recreational center, Beach Boulevard (a part of US-90) stretches for approximately six miles between the sound, with its stepped concrete sea wall, artificial beaches, and lean, wooden piers, and a line of resort hotels, summer cottages and amusement parks."

The town of Bay St. Louis, according to the Guide Book, had an altitude of 21 feet, a population of 3,724. The growth of Bay St. Louis had been a paradox, according to the Guide Book, which expanded by saying: "As long as it was isolated by the Louisiana marshes, the Jordan River, and the Bay, it was a liberal, detached, and moneyed country community. Improved transportation facilities have resulted in making it more of a resort and less of a rural center."

Individually, The Guide Book failed to explain how mosquitoes should be avoided, where the black widows lurked, and how to side-step the alligators and pit vipers.

Ag Affairs by Ed Blake

COWBOYS AND INDIANS

After four centuries American farmers find their government still hasn't quite come up with the right answers of what to do with, for, or about the American Indians. And some farmers, particularly in the south-western United States, find themselves still in a competitive hassle with the Indians' legal situation, and wish the government would come around to the position that both Indians and non-Indians have equal rights and responsibilities under the laws of this nation.

It has not happened yet - and despite the much touted equality provisions under law of the United States Constitution, the 'nation unto a nation' treatment of Indians continues as an unending epilogue to the dramatizations of the transplantation of Indian tribes from America at large to designated reservations or special case, legal, life-styles.

And while we're beating no drums designed to stir human emotions, we are concerned that territorial, water, and legal rights of both Indians and non-Indians remain in a vague area of special treatment.

Through their policy statements, American farmers have asked the Great White Father, or Fathers as the case may be, to come to grips with the problem for once and for all. The agrarian group favors abolition of the Bureau of Indian Affairs and termination of special Indian Treaty rights by purchase or negotiation for fair compensation. They suggest that the Alaska Native Claims Settlement Act of 1971 might serve as a model.

Jointly, these steps will end special treatment of Indians and bring them to full equality under the law. But in the meantime farmers are urging Congress to clarify the conflict between Indians and non-Indians and to remove any historical liens or encumbrances in mineral, property and water rights.

Specifically, farmers feel that the federal government should not financially support Indians in proceedings to establish property rights. Moreover, in the case of disputed water rights in the Southwest, farmers oppose any legislative approach similar to the Central Arizona Indian Tribal Water Rights Settlement Act of 1976. And philosophically the farm group also is opposed to any proposal that would establish a special adjudication agency or procedures for the administration of Indian water claims.

In short, it is time for a treaty to end treaties that will put American Indians into the mainstream of American life with neither more nor less privileges that citizens of any other origin.

Four centuries of purpose and experience should be enough preparation to end a stalemated situation than in this twentieth century remains less than satisfactory for both cowboys and Indians.

If not done now, looming water and land shortages particularly in the West - may make future confrontations at the pass even harder to reconcile than those of this nation's colorful past.

Brief

Howard Lett hosts two guests to discuss the importance of the vote on "Let's Look at It" at 7:30 p.m., Wednesday, October 23, on the Mississippi ETV Network. Lett's guests are Modena Martin of Hattiesburg, voter services chairperson of the League of Women Voters of Mississippi, and Dr. Samuel White of Fayette, assistant professor of history and political science at Alcorn State University. They also discuss the history of the vote, the electoral college, voter registration, voter reform and the impact of the voter.

ELEGANT LUNACY - To hotel proprietor Basil Fawley (John Cleese, left), his resort guests were created to make running his hotel as difficult as possible. And he won't stand for it. He reciprocates by making their stay as "memorable" as they make his job. Six new episodes of "Fawley Towers" present six more half-hours of the "Fawley Towers" come insanity at 8:30 p.m., Thursdays, beginning October 23, on the Mississippi ETV Network.

USM awarded $1.45 million EPA study

The Environmental Protection Agency has awarded $1.45 million to the University of Southern Mississippi in Hattiesburg to refine and modify current testing methods for toxic substances.

Linda Wastler, EPA spokeswoman in Washington, said recently the four-year study will involve the College of Science & Technology at USM and EPA scientists.

The EPA predicts 'less costly, more accurate measuring of more environmental pollutants in less time' to arise from the cooperative agreement with the university.

The College of Science & Technology is the only organization in the nation performing this specific type of analysis update for the government, said Mrs. Wastler. The award is the largest ever received by USM.

U.S. governmental and industrial chemical laboratories will also be undated with specialized biological and physical analysis on toxicants, including some from the New Orleans-Mississippi River area.

Drs. Karen Yarbrough, geneticist, and Gary Wildman, polymer chemists, at USM, were named principal coordinators in the specialized project.

EPA says this implemented biological and physical analysis of potentially harmful toxicants and pesticides will allow detection of substances previously unidentifiable.

Wildman is Dean of the College of Science and Technology where Yarbrough is director of the USM Institute of Genetics.

PRETTY LITTLE MAIDS — ALL LOOKING FOR HUSBANDS — Mary (Teresa Peake-Jones), Elizabeth (Elizabeth Garvie), Jane (Sabina Franklyn) and Lydia (Natalie Ogle) are the famed Bennet sisters in "Pride and Prejudice." The five-part dramatization of Jane Austen's classic can be seen on Masterpiece Theatre at 9 p.m., Sundays, beginning October 26, on the Mississippi ETV Network.

ASU series features concert pianist

Pianist Doyle White will be the first performer for Alcorn State University's 1980-1981 Lyceum Series.

White will perform compositions by Liszt, Schumann, Debussy, Rachmaninoff, and Chopin in a concert to be presented Monday evening at the Little Theatre in the Fine Arts Building on the Alcorn State University campus in Lorman, Miss.

White has performed in the Carnegie Recital Hall, made a successful European tour and was awarded the National Association of Negro Musicians' National Piano Competition in Los Angeles and was selected the winner.

In addition to his concert, White will present, at a time yet to be scheduled, a lecture on 'The State of Black Performers and Composers in the United States Today.'

Both the lecture and the concert are free and the general public is invited.

UNO seeks alma mater, fight song

A competition to select an alma mater and a fight song for the University of New Orleans is open to the public. Song entries must be received no later than 4:30 p.m., Dec. 17, and must be submitted anonymously through an official registration form which may be obtained through the UNO Songs Committee.

A $250 award will be presented to the winner in each category.

Louis J. Berndt, Jr., committee chairman and director of UNO Student Activities said "Songs must have music and lyrics written legibly on music manuscript, preferably with chord symbols. The melody for each song submitted need not be original. However, the lyrics for each song must be original."

Berndt advised lyrics should capture the spirit of the University of New Orleans' by containing such references as UNO, silver and blue, privateer, etc. and melodies must have a reasonable range, 'not to exceed one octave and one-third.'

Entry forms and instructions may be obtained by writing UNO Songs Committee, University Center 250, UNO, Lakefront, New Orleans, 70122 or by calling 504-283-0338.

TERROR — "The Plumber" is Peter Weir's drama of Jill Cowper (Judy Morris), who is subjected to five days of mental torment that will dramatically change her life when she opens the door to Max the plumber (Ivar Kants). "The Plumber" can be seen at 8 p.m., Wednesday, October 29, on the Mississippi ETV Network.

Brownbuilder Peggy LaFontaine is working for you in Mississippi

Peggy LaFontaine, from Bay St. Louis, is a Mississippi Brownbuilder — one of the men and women of Brown & Root — working for you in Mississippi.

Peggy joined Brown & Root in 1979 working as a clerk-typist. A graduate of Bay St. Louis High School, she enjoys sewing and attends Our Lady of the Gulf Church in Bay St. Louis.

Mississippi Brownbuilders like Peggy are working for you and thousands of your neighbors. She's helping to build the hardware, such as oil fields and power plants, which will help insure Mississippi's future growth and prosperity.

Because of Brown & Root's policy of hiring locally first, most of our Brownbuilders here are natives or longtime residents. Many of them first joined Brown & Root at project personnel offices near their homes. And, Brown & Root hires and promotes solely on the basis of individual ability and merit. Anyone willing and qualified is eligible to work. That way, local communities, counties and the state get maximum benefit from projects on which we work — hundreds of thousands of dollars in payrolls, purchases, savings and taxes.

Mississippi Brownbuilders and Brown & Root are working for you in Mississippi.

FOOD FREEZERS

Fast, zero-degree food freezing. Freezing coils on all four sides and the bottom make the entire food liner a "fast freeze" compartment. Keeps all foods solidly frozen to preserve their taste, color and texture.

Counterbalanced, self-aligning lid. Stays open by itself for easy food removal. Re-aligns automatically to maintain an airtight seal every time you close it.

Get more value from your food dollar, too. Stock up on food specials, meat sales, frozen food volume bargains. Freeze seasonal foods when they're cheap and plentiful. Store them all in your Amana freezer, and you'll get more value out of every food dollar.

WE GLADLY ACCEPT FOOD STAMPS!

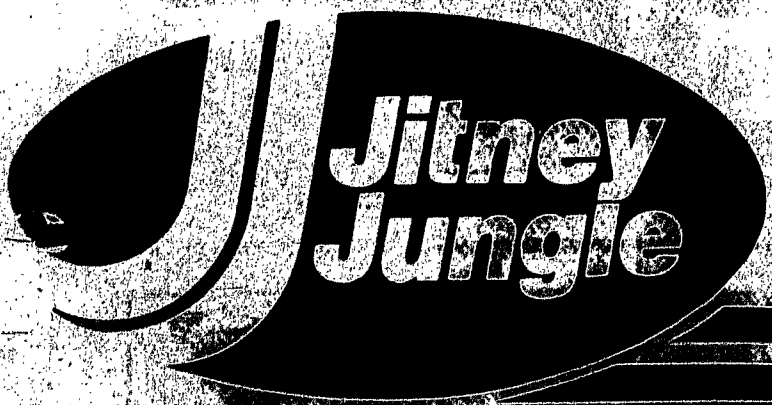

BERRY, BERRY GOOD.

And we guarantee it.

When you choose produce, demand the very best. Sometimes a cheaper price means cheaper quality—undersize avocados, limp heads of lettuce, smaller grapes that are less plump, sweet and juicy. And that's no bargain.

But the quality is never cheap at Jitney. It's always up to our high standards...and yours. "The highest possible quality at the lowest possible price." That's how we define excellent value in fresh produce.

Get your money's worth, or get your money back.
